1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-7 and 15-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Belgian Patent No. 628233.

The Belgian patent discloses an autotraying system including means 172, 180 for engaging a tray 170.

3. Claims 8-14 and 40-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Hendrickson et al.

4. Applicant's arguments filed July 2, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants state that the Belgian patent does not combine multiple small stacks into a single large stack and is unrelated to mail processing. However, the conveying means depicted in Figs. 1-3 of the Belgian patent feeds a stream of articles to separating means which meters four articles (the small stack) at a time to form a large stack consisting of eight articles. The conveying and separating means of the Belgian patent are fully capable of handling stacks of mailpieces.

Applicants also state that Hendrickson et al. does not combine multiple small stacks of mailpieces into a single large stack. However, according to the Abstract of Hendrickson et al., "mail items are sorted...into a plurality of subsets of mail items" (the small stacks) "mail items are then collated and merged into a single output stream from the respective subsets of mail items... Portions of the output stream...are collected in batches" (the large stack) "which maintain the sequence".

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
